Carlisle-based Carvetii Town and Country Interiors has recently re-branded and refurbished its town-centre showroom space.

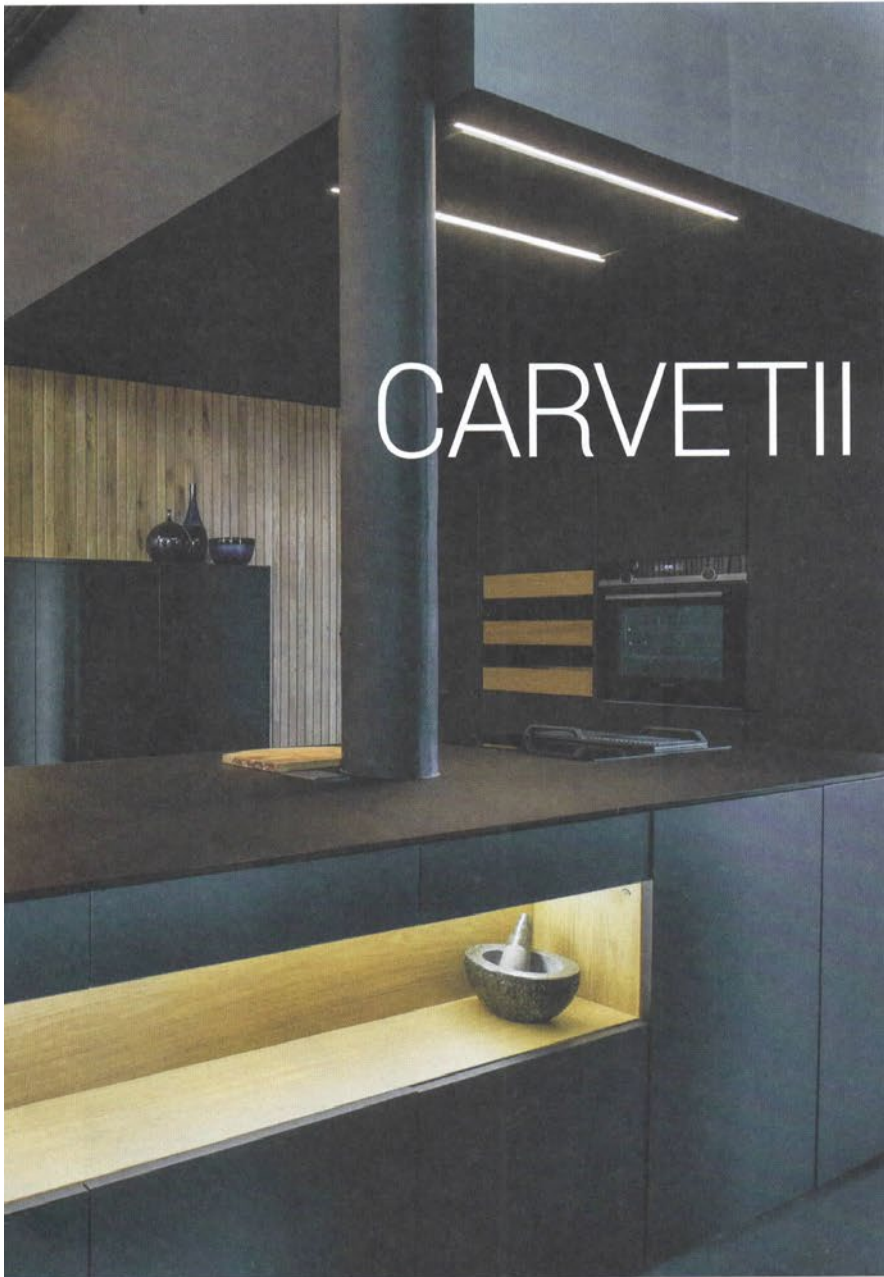

Led by CEO and Chief Designer Roy Sweetman, its team of designers handle all aspects of projects and create schemes for all rooms of the house, with furniture created and manufactured in the company's own workshop in Kendal.

This striking contemporary kitchen is the star of the showroom however. The design features oak slatted panelling and oak insets and drawers for the kitchen, with Buster + Punch pendant lighting and LEM seating in black lacquer with black leather seats, a grey smoked mirror, and a Zip Cube tap in matt black.

The worktop is a mix of 10mm thick matt black glass and Sensa granite worktop and sink.

The kitchen includes a multifunction oven is a Siemens IQ700, with a IQ700 flexInduction hob. The look is completed with a colour-matched Westin extractor.
